

Student Name: Mr. Chanakarn Kaeo-Insuan

Supervisor: doc. Ing. Antonin Havelka, CSc
Head, Department of clothing
Faculty of textile engineering
Technical University of Liberec

Title of thesis: Study of influences of fashion trend in modern apparels in Southeast Asia
(Scope: Cambodia, Indonesia, Malaysia and Thailand)

Evaluation report:

- 1- The thesis solves the problem defined in it.
- 2- The diploma thesis covers a wide range of fashion trends in the four designated Southeast Asian countries in specific and in the region in general. The candidate has made a very good effort to combine the influence of culture, religion and international trends in fashion and apparel sector. The thesis describes to a good extent the history and tradition in these countries with regard to clothing textiles. The pictures provided from different sources supplement for understanding the cross-cultural fashion trends. Though the quality of English is not very good, it still shows the efforts made by the author to describe the different aspects of his/her work with good degree of originality and sincerity. In the title of the thesis, MALAYSIAN should be replaced with MALAYSIA which is the name of the country. It would have been better if the thesis was splitted into different chapters and each new chapter starting with a new page.
- 3- The thesis fulfills the requirements for award of the Ing. degree.
- 4- The thesis is recommended for evaluation.
- 5- The proposed final grade is VERY GOOD (2).

 - 30.05.2011
Rajesh Mishra, Ph.D.
Department of textile technologies
Faculty of textile engineering
Technical University of Liberec